KGC COFFEE BLEND... Our own blend of fine Indian organic shade grown Arabica and Robusta coffee varieties from southern states. Selected for their spicy notes and bold taste, all our coffees are sourced from plantations which engage in sustainable practices. The coffee plants are grown in the shade of the forest, thereby maintaining full biodiversity and a rich self-supporting ecosystem of native plants and animals. Not only does this produce a 100% natural coffee, but also safeguards the local environment. For decaf, we use an Italian blend that offer acceptable body. SUGAR...The dark sugar we serve is made from healthy organic jaggery and is recommended with coffee. Our lighter sugar is not chemically treated like white sugar, yet has a neutral taste which works well for people unused to the great flavour of jaggery. BREAD... Our Wholegrain bread is made with organic atta, some organic white flour, plus other organic native grains such as bajra and nachchni according to availability, + oats and seeds. OTHER The selection of organic produce we buy is constantly growing, and we currently have organic microgreens, sugar, certain greens, vegetables and fruits which are available at different times of the year. We are always looking to source more organic ingredients in the hope that one day we can be fully organic. We urge small organic producers to get in touch to present their products.
